

Module 3: Vector Databases and ChromaDB

Vector databases store embeddings and index high-dimensional vectors.

They use Hierarchical Navigable Small World graphs for ANN search.

ChromaDB provides an open-source persistent embedding database.

Similarity metrics include cosine distance, dot product, and L2 distance.

In Phase 2, chunks are stored alongside `document_id` and page metadata.